

Embodied Freedom

June 4-6, 2017

Augsburg College, Minneapolis, Minnesota

Women and men and people of all genders;
laity, scholars, and clergy; Lutherans and their neighbors—
all are invited to participate.

Program includes interactive plenaries, concurrent sessions, worship, and a banquet.

PRESENTERS

Evangeline Anderson-Rajkumar
Jennifer Hockenbery Dragseth
Cynthia Moe-Lobeda
Elaine Neuenfeldt

Karis Thompson
Terra Schwerin Rowe
Deanna A. Thompson
Beverly Wallace

REGISTRATION

- To register, go to <https://community.elca.org/embodied-freedom>.
- Registration closes May 15, 2017.

COST

- Standard rate: $75.00
- Student rate: $50.00
- Some subsidies are available.

Registration includes all program sessions, banquet, breakfast and lunch on Monday, and breakfast on Tuesday.

Housing is available at Augsburg College or at the Marriott Courtyard.
To reserve your own room, go to <https://community.elca.org/embodied-freedom>.

Funded through a generous grant from Thrivent Financial.
Supported by ELCA Justice for Women.

A theological event commemorating the 500th anniversary of the Reformation, bringing Luther's dynamic notion of Christian freedom into contemporary conversations about personal, social, and global bodies.

Evangelical Lutheran Church in America
God's work. Our hands.